Dr. Frank Edward Hanscom

You will forgive me I hope if in this little and unworthy tribute to him who has gone, I speak briefly and very simply—without rhetoric or attempted oratory. He whose loss we mourn would have been the last, I think, to wish his passing marked by bombast or by show. Like most men of real greatness and nobility, he was one whose conduct was marked by simplicity, directness, and an utter absence of pretense. It is the little man who seeks to conceal his diminutive stature by an affectation of greatness.

Few of you, I believe, have known Doctor Hanscom longer than I have. When he first arrived in Bethel to become principal of the Academy, I came with him and I had already been his pupil in another school for several years. Thus for nearly a half century I have had the opportunity to watch the development and progress of this remarkable man. I would be blind indeed if in that long period I had not observed some of his qualities of mind and soul. Of his dignity, his industry, his earnestness of purpose, his ability to meet any situation with distinction, of his success in his chosen career I need not speak here among his pupils and friends to whom these things are so well known. After all, when one is gone, it is not of his success in the worldly sense that one likes to think but of character and of the goodness of his works. It matters not so much that, during his long service to the Academy, the single structure in which he began his duties gave way to many, or that its few pupils were multiplied several fold. What really measured his greatness was the impress of his life and personality on the many students who came and went through the Academy doors. That he was a great teacher everyone who was ever under him could not fail to recognize. He was so great a teacher that I have never seen nor expect to see again his like. But he was more than a great teacher. He was possessed of some inner and mysterious power which shone from his eyes so that by a mere look he could compel obedience and enforce discipline and make one guilty of any meanness hang his head in shame. He was the most friendly of masters yet one knew that he was master and knew likewise that he was always just. How many boys and girls he encouraged to better work and better conduct I do not know only because I do not know how many came into his school. Certainly no one who came in contact with him could escape his helpful and uplifting influence. The good that he did is incalculable. There are many here today who have been his pupils and who in their hearts know that much that they possess not only of knowledge but of character they owe to him.

What more satisfactory life can we imagine than that of our old much loved teacher and friend, what greater happiness than his, if his modesty did not prevent him from realizing, as his years neared their end, that his teaching and example had entered into the lives of countless persons, had influenced them for good and that their character which he had helped to build and enrich, would in turn pass on perhaps to their children and their children's children, so that in very truth his works shall have an immortality on this earth.

In thinking sadly of those days when

I sat as a pupil at his feet, there came back to my memory his custom of having the students commit to memory and recite at morning exercises some worthwhile quotation of poetry or prose and then I remembered one of the old favorites which he must have heard many times repeated and which seems not inappropriate to this sad occasion:

"So live that when thy summons comes to join
The innumerable caravan, which moves
To that mysterious realm, where each shall take
His chamber in the silent halls of death, Thou go not, like the quarry-slave at night,

Scourged to his dungeon, but, sustained and soothed
By an unfaltering trust, approach thy grave,
Like one that wraps the drapery of his couch
About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."

He, whom we mourn today, has so lived that, with unfaltering trust, he can approach and enter the portals of that mysterious realm, and we, who were his friends, with equal trust may feel assured that, his life well spent, and free from all regret, he has in truth lain down to pleasant dreams.

COMMENCEMENT, 1939

Even for those of us who remember, but especially for those who forget, let us go back to the gala day, May 31, 1939.

We gathered outside the gym and marched in, taking our places beneath our class banners, to the rousing strains of the "March of the Priests," played by our school band.

Following came the address of welcome by Rita Salls. Then the task of transferring the Twentieth Century Club banner was performed by Elizabeth Field. The class gift was presented by Murray Thurston, and then Mr. Philip Sayles made a speech of acceptance. Mr. Sayles also dedicated Hanscom Hall, and then our new Holden Hall was dedicated by Dr. Frank Hanscom.

A flute solo, "Concertina," executed by Anton Mainente, was a treat for all of us. Noticeably fine was his graceful playing of the intricate portions.

A fantasy, "The Man of the Moment," was presented by an excellent cast including: Gladys Clark, Elizabeth Field, Helen Gillis, John Larsen, Anne Logofet, Barbara Lyon, Lydia Norton, and Claire Tebbets.

The valedictory was given by Helen Lowe. Diplomas were then awarded and the following honors conferred.

Scholarship Cup: Class of '39

Election to National Honor Society: Maynard Austin, Elizabeth Field, Arlene Greenleaf, Helen Lowe, Laurice Morrill, Rita Salls, Murray Thurston, and Claire Tebbets.

Scholarship Shield: Helen Lowe, Rita Salls, Murray Thurston, and Elizabeth Field.

R. P. I. Medal for Math and Science:

Maynard Austin

Becker College Medal for Commercial Excellence:

Helen Lowe

Medal for outstanding work in Athletics:

Helen Lowe, Donald Holt

Medal for outstanding work in Debating:

Anne Logofet, Murray Thurston

Medal for outstanding work in Dramatics:

Arlene Greenleaf

The service was followed by the Alumni Luncheon in the Gehring Home. Mr. Harrison Lyseth was the guest speaker and all enjoyed themselves. The Alumni-Varsity annual baseball play-off provided us with entertainment that afternoon. The Alumni were victorious, with a final score of 12 to 8. In the evening there was the usual commencement dance, featuring the orchestra of Freddie King. We had a grand time until 12:30, when the dance broke up.

So let us keep that Commencement eternally fresh in mind, and remember those who have left us, as the old friends they were and always will be.

CLASS WILL, 1940

We, the Class of 1940, being about to depart from our schoolmates and teachers, and wishing to be pleasantly remembered, do hereby present the following tokens of our esteem:

To Mr. Sayles, in gratitude for his interest and kindness toward us, we present a new eight day week, the eighth day to be reserved solely for choir practice.

To Miss Bailey, we present a portable garden, and the right to use any brilliant remarks which we have made at any time in the past as examples for future classes.

To Mr. Fossett, we leave a carton of Life Savers and a movie machine, so that in the future his classes may see all the movies discussed and recommended by him.

To Mr. Anderson, we leave a pile of sweatshirts in the gym; and to Miss Hanscom any combs, hair-pins, and worn out socks which may be in the girls' lockers.

To Miss Soule we leave the memory of a class that could talk, but couldn't speak, and our appreciation for helping to make our play a success.

To Miss Stevens, we leave two antique sofas so that she may use the slipcovers she and the Home Ec girls made for our play.

To Miss Lundy, we leave all roads, paths, and trails to be used for Biology hikes.

To Miss Simpson, we leave various maps and history work sheets which we have done during our careers. These are to be disposed of as she thinks proper.

To Mr. Bailey, we leave a time clock to be punched by students so that he will not have to take attendance during chapel.

To Mrs. Leonard, we leave a genuine Yankee accent.

To the Juniors, we leave all privileges which they deserve as Seniors, hoping that they will bear these honors well.

To the Sophomores, we leave our dignity and seats in the back section.

To the Freshmen, we leave the hope that they will grow in wisdom and uphold the honor of the school.

We, Barbara Sturtevant and Ruth Bull, leave our driving ability to anyone who can make use of it.

I, Virginia Davis leave to my brother, Stanley, the job of getting the news from the school.

I, Gardner Smith, leave my Clark Gable moustache to Sidney Howe.

I, Ethelyn McMillin, leave to my sister, Josie, my athletic ability—to keep it in the family.

roles in plays to anyone who has a pair of knickers.

I, Robert Angel, leave Mr. Combs, taking with me his one-man Latin 4 class.

I, Nathaniel Bartholomaei, return to the school the bass horn which I have used, polished and kept in good condition.

I, Henry Haley, leave my seat in the drug store to the highest bidder.

I, Edna Young, leave the speeches I have made in Speech Class to Joyce Swan.

We, Kathryn McMillin and Madelyn Bird, leave our "A" conduct to Hope Bailey and Francine Warren.

I, Herbert Bailey, leave Miss Bailey in peace after asking so many questions in Math class.

I, David Roberts, leave to Lee Swan my ability to drive rapidly so that he may reach school on time.

We, Janet Payne and Muriel James, regretfully leave the Sophomores.

I, Alida Verrill, leave to Hartwell Blanchard the job of librarian. He can reach the books on the top shelves.

I, Mary Buck, leave my plants to the Biology department.

I, Betty McLaren, leave my good nature and sunny smile to Jack Haines.

We, Jean Cameron and Marilyn Howe, leave a set of rules to be followed by girls wishing to form a club for college appreciation.

I, Laurence Brooks, leave piles of manuscript to the school, to be displayed as famous relics when I win the Pulitzer prize.

I, Kathryn Davis, leave my desire to argue in history class to Charles Knight.

I, Madeliene Hall, leave to Rachel Gordon my stylish coiffures.

I, Earle Palmer, leave my height and position as center to Wilbur Bull.

I, Jeanette Kimball, leave my seat in the corner near the door to Peggy Procter, so that she will not have to walk so far when she sprains her ankle.

I, Gurdon Buck, leave my industry and quietness to Roscoe Swain.

I, Edwina Mann, leave after one pleasant year at Gould. Why didn't I come sooner?

I, Rupert Grover, leave my card playing ability to Philip Cummings.

I, Philip Smith, leave a bottle of "Vitalis" to Erik Brown.

I, Robert Billings, leave to Mr. Fossett my ability to bring home some game when I hunt.

I, Althea Parker, leave my various "interests" to accumulate for future use.

I, Barbara Cummings, leave to Muriel Hall the tedious task of picking up and sorting the keys for the drawers of the bookkeeping desks.

We, Beatrice Canwell and Myrtle Lapham, leave the scraps from our sewing projects to be made into a patchwork quilt for the Home Ec cottage.

I, Rodney Wentzell, having been a "little" left last year, now leave.

I, Winfield Benner, leave my love of French to Charles St. Thomas.

I, Minot Clapp, leave my knowledge of radio to the Physics students.

I, Esther Pike, leave my Irish brogue (cultivated for the play) to Bob Bushong.

I, Irving Brown, leave my ability to secure a third term (as class president) to Franklin Roosevelt.

I, Sherman Williamson, leave the year-book to the school.

I, Floyd Lohnes, leave to Sidney Howe Miss Bailey's assistance in Math.

I, Anne Ring, leave my library privilege to Roger Williams. Now he won't have to read the encyclopedias all the time.

Signed: Class of 1940

IN MEMORIAM

In fond memory of our friend and fellow classmate, David Kirk, who entered Gould Academy in 1936, and died November, 1939, as a result of an unfortunate hunting accident.

JUNIOR NOTES, 1940

In September, 1937, forty-four students were enrolled in the Freshman class at Gould Academy. The big event for us that year was the Freshman Reception, held Tuesday evening, October 5. After this, because we danced so poorly at the Reception, the faculty decided that we had to have dancing lessons. We were instructed by Miss Dorothy Hanscom. After a month or more of lessons, they were discontinued, for by that time we were supposed to have mastered the gentle art of stepping on other people's toes. That year, instead of giving individual declamations as formerly, we gave a demonstration of choral speaking.

At the annual election of officers, as Freshmen, we selected the following: Filmore Clough, president; Wilbur Bull, vice-president; Barbara Luxton, secretary.

In our Sophomore year we welcomed nine new members to our class. We elected the following officers: Romeo Baker, president; Robert Perry, vice-president, Shirley Sim, secretary. That year, instead of giving declamations in the Assembly Hall, we were required to attend a weekly speech class. How we loved it!

In 1939 we came back through the "Golden Gates of Wisdom" as Juniors. Romeo Baker was again our president, Guy Swan our vice-president, June Chipman was selected as secretary, and Marian Wight was our treasurer. Fifteen new members were welcomed to our class this year.

The Junior Prom was held in the William Bingham Gymnasium on Friday evening, April 19, with music furnished by Jan Grover's Orchestra. The color scheme for the decorations was blue and white. The dance was well attended and we had a grand evening.

And now that the history of the Junior Class has been brought up-to-date, I'll just say "so long."

SOPHOMORE NOTES

There was a hubbub and flurry in the main room as friends met again or new acquaintances chatted with each other, September 19. How big we "Sophs" felt to have graduated from the "Greenie" class, and to have become staid and dignified Sophomores. Some of our old members had not returned, but in their stead new students had arrived. Our class had the largest enrollment in the school.

At our first class meeting, the following officers were elected: Virgil Adams, president; Muriel Bean, vice-president; Priscilla Abbott, secretary; Nicholas Amato, treasurer.

As the school year progressed, and we once more got into the swing of things, we had a large percentage of Sophomores represented in all school activities. Our class began to attain both scholastic and athletic heights, comparing favorably with other classes. The honor rolls and privilege lists always contained the names of several of our class-mates. The Debating Club had "Sophs" in its midst, with Muriel Bean, Elizabeth Gorman, David Holden, Herbertina Norton, and Helen Williamson participating in the discussions. We were also well represented on the Winter Sports Team by the following: Virgil Adams, Carlton Barker, Irving Cummings, and Elmer Runyon. The Sophomores placed third in the Winter Sports Carnival Competition, with the following placing: Priscilla Abbott, Virgil Adams, Carlton Barker, Irving Cummins, Rachel Field, Lewis Littlehale, and Elmer Runyon. A vote of thanks was given to Nick Amato for selling the most Carnival tickets.

If you want to anger a Sophomore beyond description, mention the name of Herman, the bear. Herman was the unfortunate mascot of the girls' and boys' basketball teams. The girls' team was captained by Marian Colby, and was composed of Hope Bean, Emma Blake, June Enman, Rachel Field, Dorothy Fish, Elizabeth Gorman, Madelene Jordan, Patricia Laverty, and Herbertina Norton. Herman brought great success for the first few games, and then he seemed to lose all interest. The Freshmen finally defeated us in the struggle for the championship. The same sad fate awaited the boys, only the Juniors, rather than the Freshies, won the championship. The boys' team was captained by Billy Robertson, and the other members were Whipple Abbe, Nicholas Amato, Levi Baker, Carlton Barker, Edward Bean, Lewis Littlehale, and Charles St. Thomas.

During the past year, we have done our utmost to preserve the traditions of Gould and to make our class worthy of the wonderful opportunities provided for us. It is our earnest hope that, in the two years which lie before us at G. A., we may continue to participate actively in scholastic and athletic activities, and that we may carry with us at all times the memory of many happy days spent in Gould.

FRESHMAN NOTES

A very green Freshman Class entered the great door of knowledge of Gould Academy, last September 19. The class was composed of fifty-two members then, but four new members have since joined us. Our class officers are:

Malcolm Brown, president; Nora Chipman, vice-president; Ida Lee Clough, secretary; Winfield Wight, treasurer. Our class colors are green and gold; and our motto is "Not for one, but for all."

After the Freshman Reception on October 19, the first big event of the year, we felt we were full-fledged Freshmen, and really belonged to the student body of Gould Academy. Our class has done well in athletics. Several of the boys, throughout the year, have showed much interest in track, football, basketball; and will, no doubt, show great interest in baseball. The girls' class basketball team won the honor of being the undefeated team. Many of the Freshman girls went out for hiking, horseshoes, tennis, and volleyball. Several Freshman boys and girls took part in Gould's Winter Carnival on February 16 and 17. We hope to do better throughout our coming years, so that our class will have a place on the list of high-ranking classes in Gould History.

SCHOOL NOTES

September 19, 1939:

This has been the first day of Gould's 104th year. How familiar everything looked this morning, and yet how many new faces in our record enrollment of 228! In the faculty, too, are new faces. Our new house-master and instructor of English and Social Studies is Mr. Barlow T. Loomis, a graduate of Union College, Schenectady, New York. After serving in the World War, he was a member of the faculty of the Tome School of Port Deposit, Maryland. Senior Master at the Wooster School, Danbury, Connecticut; a member of the faculty of Mamaroneck High School, Mamaroneck, New York; and of the Collegiate Center at Schenectady, New York. Taking the place of William R. Soule is Mr. Rathbone, a graduate of Phillips-Exeter Academy, Exeter, New Hampshire, and of Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vermont, he is now teaching English and History, and assists in the coaching of football and track.

Our dormitories are wonderful now! We had thought the Marian True Gehring Students' Home something to be proud of before, but now—I think all of us have swelled at least two inches since last year! The new maple furniture for our redecorated rooms, and furniture for our beautiful reception room certainly kills two birds with one stone—appearance and comfort! I happened to pass by the serving room this morning, and what an improvement! Such convenient new shelves, and electric washing machine; "it sure does beat all"!

I couldn't say a word about the new Holden Hall; it has to be seen to be appreciated! I only hope the pool table doesn't wear out too soon under its constant use!

Another addition to our campus are the newly planted trees. Won't it be fun to walk about under these grand old friends when we return for our eightieth reunion!

September 26, 1939:

This afternoon the Esso Marketers showed us two moving pictures. The first, "News in the Air," showed how news is gathered, edited, and distributed for newspapers and radio. How true is the saying "news travels fast"! The second picture was of a schooner trip around Cape Horn, with wind and giant waves. My kingdom for a yacht.

October 6, 1939:

To-night we had a rally in preparation for our football game tomorrow, the first of the season. The captain of our football team, the coaches, and our weather prophet, Mr. Fossett, spoke to us; in addition we practiced cheering.

As we left, we took care to see that the roof was still securely fastened on the gymnasium!

October 7, 1939:

Our fourth annual Parents' Day was a great success: the weather was perfect and the attendance more than ever before. The football game with Bridgton Junior Varsity was fine, in spite of the fact that we were defeated. A dance in the gymnasium for we young folk, to the music of the Gould Academy Swing Band, followed the game. A tea in Holden Hall, poured by Mrs. Elery C. Park and Mrs. Philip S. Sayles, was also well attended.

October 19, 1939:

The much anticipated Freshman Reception is now a thing of the past. After the usual flurry of dressing and arriving on time at the gymnasium, we were conducted through a receiving line consisting of Principal and Mrs. P. S. Sayles; Principal Emeritus, Dr. Frank E. Hanscom and Mrs. Frank E. Hanscom; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Park; Senior Master, Carroll Bailey, and Mrs. C. P. Bailey; Dean of Girls, Margery F. Bailey, and the president and the secretary of the Senior Class, Irving Brown and Virginia Davis. Then came dancing until eleven o'clock, with music by Lord's Orchestra, and now comes bed!

October 26, 1939:

It's so good to be home again tonight, with four days here ahead of me. I hope the teachers at their convention in Lewiston are having as good a time as I am!

November 29, 1939:

This morning in chapel service some of the students and the school choir entertained us with a Thanksgiving program. And guess what!—nothing was said about ways to hold more on Thanksgiving! I'm sure nothing was further from our thoughts as we entered our classes.

November 30, 1940:

Thanksgiving Day! There was a luscious dinner served at Gehring Home, with no studies to curb our appetites. These days full of thankfulness should certainly be common with us!

December 17, 1939:

I'm feeling very Christmasy tonight! This afternoon we had a Vesper Service in the gymnasium made up almost entirely of carols sung by the Girls' Glee Club and the Choir. A Christmas tree pointed upward on each side of the stage, and the light was furnished by a row of candles along the front. Isn't Christmas a beautiful time of year!

December 18, 1939:

I feel a little as a contented cow looks—full, happy, and sleepy. Tonight was our Christmas party. The festivities began with a Christmas Banquet in the dining room of the Gehring Students' Home, followed by a rush to the gymnasium for dancing. Just think, we go home tomorrow for our Christmas vacation, never to return (until January third)!

February 2, 1940:

We heard the Carnegie Music Set this morning used in illustrating a talk on the progress of music through the ages, given by Mr. Anton Mainente. This set is a very new addition to Gould Academy, and we are always eager to hear more of it. After his present subject Mr. Mainente is going to help us get a better understanding of the opera "Aida."

February 17, 1940:

What a fine Winter Carnival we have had! Even the weather has been good to us. The fun began Friday night with skating and movies, the events were today, and tonight's Carnival Ball capped the climax. The gymnasium was very effectively decorated, and Dick Poulin's orchestra did a grand job.

March 11, 1940:

I was nearly crushed this morning in Gould Academy's mob scene—our new books could be taken out for the first time today! There is a fine collection of 103 new books; ranging from the newest fiction, plays, short stories, poems, and biography to some of the older but none the less read stories. Now all we need is a vacation to read them in!

March 12, 1940:

This afternoon in Assembly Hall we were clearly shown how man's greed and wastefulness have caused our present soil erosion and floods. Timber and soil conservation are certainly needed. The moving picture sponsored by the Department of Agriculture is not one to be forgotten soon.

March 13, 1940:

I was idly looking through my diary today and in reading the entry under September 19, 1939 the phrase "new faces" caught my eye. We all wish Carroll E. Bailey and Sally C. Sayles the greatest success in their newly embarked careers!

March 22, 1940:

Spring vacation is really here. One would hardly know it by looking out the window, there's practically a blizzard raging; but a little thing like that can't fool us!

April 10, 1940:

This morning in chapel the senior honors were announced: Anne Ring, Valedictorian; Sherman Williamson, Salutatorian; Mary Buck, Presenting of Class Gift; and Gurdon Buck, Presenting of the Twentieth Century Banner. It makes graduation seem so near!

April 15, 1940:

In less than a week Junior Prom, scheduled for April 19, will be a thing of the past. Isn't it too bad that we anticipate things for so long, and the things themselves remain such a short time! I'm sure we're all going to have a grand time.

April 19, 1940:

It is a wonderful day today—blue sky, sun, and rapidly increasing stretches of snowless ground. Spring is really here, and the end of school not far distant, only seven weeks! The Baccalaureate speaker has not been announced yet, but graduation will proceed about as usual. The Reverend Mr. Wallace will give the invocation; Mr. Sayles, the honors and diplomas, the four honor students will speak; and the benediction will be given by Reverend Mr. Gordon. There is to be a pageant. The Alumni Luncheon and a ball game will follow the graduation exercises; and last, but not least, comes the Senior Reception. Then goodbye Gould, till we meet again!

TIME

MARION TRUE GEHRING HOME EDITION

Letters

April 1, 1940

Dear Editor:

Confucious say, "It not always take fire to cook one's goose." He is right; sometimes it takes "Time."

Yours truly,
June Chipman

National Affairs, Foreign Affairs, and Affairs

We are not a League of Nations, although we do have people from Poland, Paris, Naples, Berlin, and Peru. As there is nothing more of interest in Foreign Affairs, let me give you the Local Affairs.

Edwina Mann may be seen any day on the campus, with those big brown eyes looking longingly across the street. She always returns from week ends to tell roommate Barbara (Buff) Sturtevant of her wonderful times. Our next local, socially prominent, Salem subdeb, Althea Parker, has been greatly interested in Gilead. (What's the story, Al? Is the interest Biblical, or otherwise?) There's been a rumor that the tall sophisticated senior, Jean Cameron, has been seen wearing a fraternity pin. Practicing modeling, Jean?

Sports

Our leader in sports, blame-taking Lucia Packard, prefers being on campus to playing basketball. In tennis, let me warn you, she can swing a racket (and in the dorm, too). Our Gould sportswomen have done wonders. If you want an example of a second Ella Gulbrandsen on skis, you just have to watch that medal winner from Watford, Ruth Bull, and there you have it. Another promising skier is little Beverley Bassett of Haverhill, Massachusetts. Beverley is little and dark-eyed—but not quiet! Our great fresh-air fiend, the heroine on skis, is none other than Gould's own "Lively Lady," Peggy Procter. She eats during her leisure time, but will give that up at the saying "Let's go out." And in conclusion there's that little red head from Hebron, Rachel Field. I believe she will be our future "Gal of the Outdoors."

Music

Recently there has been an addition to the Choir at the Congregational Church; that flirtatious little Junior, Suzanne LaZure, who believes that serenading is the spice of life. She may be heard any day at 6:30 P. M. over station WACKY, singing "Show Me the Way to Go Home", or "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot." Then, there's her roommate, that lyric soprano, Mary Blythe O'Leary, (really blithe, too). She's a great pianist and can play anything from "Mary Had a Little Lamb" to "Romeo, My Romeo." Musically minded Priscilla Abbott (Pussy to us) not only sings a la Lily Pons, but may be found diligently practicing on the piano between 3:00 and 5:00. It seems that this concludes our list of musicians. Whoops! Just a minute! We omitted our music expert, and it wouldn't be fair. So here she is, folks—Lorraine Gaylord, who prefers "Swing and Rhythm."

Medicine

It is a pleasure for me to introduce the lady who will cure anything from a fallen arch to a dislocated finger, Miss Staples, our family doctor. You'll find her any day, when there is need, in her abode on the first floor.

Education

It is said that education is the pathway to success. Now let's look at the girls who are traveling on that path: but first, I must tell you about some of our instructors.

On the third floor you will find Miss Lucille Simpson. She is often seen reading "Galileo" by candlelight, and then the next morning wondering why she is so sleepy.

Coming downstairs, just as we reach the corner, whom should we meet but Miss Burris and Miss Stevens. Esther is the "gal" who can take it (we mean dictation). Miss Stevens tells the girls about the latest fashions from Paris.

Then we find our speech teacher, Miss Soule. She not only teaches speech, but can give lessons in the art of knitting—mittens especially.

At the other end of the corridor who should welcome us but our cute little French teacher, Madame Eugenia Leonard. Mrs. Leonard teaches us our "etres" and "avoirs". Rooming with Mrs. Leonard is Miss Hanscom. She is our expert gym teacher who coached the basketball team in an undefeated season this year.

One of our Bostonian girls, Jane Bucknam, enjoys mid-year exams immensely. (Or do you, Jane?)

You'll find our little question-asker, Barbara Linnitt, any time the night before a test, inquiring of her next door neighbor, "You ask me questions you think they'll ask me, huh?" Oh well, "Barb", it's nice to take such an interest in studying.

Our next victim, Margaret "Red" Stevens of Bethel, seems to prefer reading magazines (what kind, Marg?) to studying Algebra II, but never objects to assistance with the Algebra. Kathleen Ripley of Magalloway may be seen running around the dorm asking if any one has some magazines that she can read during study hours.

This concludes the list of studious people. But oh! I have forgotten one more of our students—Nora Chipman. She enjoys potatoes and Sundaes; perhaps that's why she sleeps during study hours.

Art

We have some talented pen sketchers also, and they surely can make a picture "what it ain't."

Picture-minded Miss Margaret Lundy, one of the faculty members, is easily recognized by the paint brush, camera, and skis which are her almost constant companions.

One of our honor students, Mary Buck, can also use a brush. She paints many pictures which are almost as good as those of Raphael. At least we think so!

Crinkly-eyed Nancy Arnold seems to be interested in giving Molyneux and Schiaperelli close competition in designing fashions.

Last but not least, we have our little blonde artist, Violet Kasregis. "Vi" spends most of her time drawing in English class. When Mr. Rathbone asks her what she is doing she replies, "Nothing."

Religion

All go to church on Sunday; but Leita West is benefiting from the experience of her roommate, Beverly Bassett. Leita knows that sleep is O. K., but it is better to go to church.

Business and Finance

By now you readers must think we have a department for everything, and so we have! Comptroller of the Currency, Miss Margery Bailey, is financial administrator for the dorm girls, especially Lucia Packard and Gladys Neuswanger. Miss Bailey is also interested in collecting antique cups and saucers. Beatrice Canwell is our next nomination for "Who's Who in Business." Any teacher will tell you that Bea's good, every night, for the question, "May I see so and so about my bookkeeping?"

Muriel James is our typical business gal and good in commercial matters. She is frequently seen with dependable, sedate Janet Payne, from Ridgewood, New Jersey. Janet believes in fair play. Her roommate, Betty Runyon, is a promising fashion expert and skilfull in using a needle.

People

"Off again, on again" Ruth Areson, from Jackson Heights, is one of the reasons "Why Gentlemen Prefer Blondes."

Then there is Elizabeth Smith, whose favorite subject is Speech, or is it? Oh well, "Libbie," detention isn't so bad!

Two girls who believe in having a good time are none other than Esther Pike, who thinks Gould isn't such a bad Alma Mater after all, and Betty McLaren, who likes brownies. Betty also likes to plague people, especially a certain boy with whom all waiters and waitresses are well acquainted.

"Truth is stranger than fiction," but I'm still amazed at how some people can come back for seconds all the time and yet retain their girlish figure. Won't you tell us your secret, Pat Laverty?

Cinema

Movies? Yes, every Saturday night some of our popular coeds may be seen at Odeon Hall. Who will top the list? It's no use keeping it any longer folks, but any time you wish to see Marian Wight, just step into the dorm reception room at 7:55, on a Saturday evening, and there she will be with that certain "Guy."

Gladys Neuswanger and Jane Chesley (very interested in French) are our next movie fans. They are planning to take a trip to Hollywood! Good luck girls.

Joan Tooker, from New York, is a great admirer of Tarzan and goes to movies regularly. "Midge," really Margorie Alvord, a regular movie-goer, keeps up with the movies by reading "Movie Mirror."

Our talkative little brunette of Newton, Carrol Gay, can be heard typing from 3:30 to 9:30. Here's an intimate secret: she's a movie fan! Well, girls, let us know when Clark Gable gets his next degree, won't you?

Literature

Literature is important. To prove this ask "Book Bug," Louisa Bacon. Louisa reads anything from "Peter and Polly" to "Gone With the Wind," and I doubt if we could interest her in anything else when she's "Gone With the Wind" in books.

Our greatest fan for writing is our friendly little Winchester senior, Marilyn Howe, who may be seen writing letters to Bates College, or waiting for returns.

Other literarily minded persons are Ann Andrews and Mary Ferren. The former seems to get many special delivery letters from Westerly, Rhode Island. Ann, how's chances of letting us in on the secret? Mary also enjoys writing letters.

Our nicely dressed newcomer, Virginia Lindquist, has just completed "Queen Victoria." Good work, "Ginny!"

At last this brings us to a close and this, my dear friends, was what the public didn't know about our young Scarlet O'Hara's.

TIME

HOLDEN HALL EDITION

Foreign Affairs

With spring coming on and everything considered, the situation between

Holden Hall and the Gehring Home seems to be well under control. A fairly widespread bachelors' movement has started; some of us can't believe this is as it should be. Some humble devotees are noted but, as a rule, variety seems to be the spice of things.

"Bud" and "Charlie" seem to be enjoying themselves. Asbery Emerson, Roger Williams, and "Whip" Abbe seem to have something in common. "Ted" Jenks seems invariable, which is all very good. Play-boy Bartholomaei seems to be in kind of a fog. A newcomer here, Sandy Campbell seems to be staging a sort of "blitzkrieg" on scattered fronts. Erik Brown and "Herb" Bailey are the type who sit around dreamily and write fuzzy poetry by flash light. But after all, let peace reign; and didn't someone once say that a good quarrel strengthens the bonds of friendship?

Crime

Many a nice song has died locally this winter. The clock system suffered horribly once, and numerous innocents have dived into bed, to skid wildly on shaving cream or to be brought up short by a nice job of bed making. Clinton murdered the "Star Spangled Banner." We have all murdered the English language, and someone should have murdered "Herb" Bailey.

Sports

We're proud of our activity in the world of sport this year. Who'd ever think that the usually slow and deliberate Carl Tucker would zip down the grid-iron, invariably to chalk up a score? He played a snappy season of basketball—one of our outstanding players. "Tuck" is our house pool champ and also looks good in the baseball and track lineups. Good going Carl!

Pool is not to be taken as an idle sport; it is an art, and some of the boys excel at it. "Eddie Miller, (Class B winner in the tournament), "Phil" (Cornish) Smith, "Pudgy," "Ted" Jenks, and "Hank" Haley all play a nice game. "Clint" is certainly destined to be a champ, and the Estabrook position will be celebrated far and wide.

Erik Brown, "Bud" Runyon, "Mac" Brown, and "Hank" Haley are doing well on the flashing boards. These fellows have done some skiing this winter. Every time it snowed this year, "Otto" Haines scraped down his skis and tried a new wax. Between waxings he flashed on down the glistening slopes, all of him in perfect form. "Jim" Shields, James Farley's right hand man, and Dan McGrew" Williams vie for honors in the stowing away of food. "Nick" Amato made a rapid rise to fame in basketball, and if praying and fore-thought are any indication, he will do well in baseball. "Bob" Angel is a coming skier and baseball manager. Guy Swan played an excellent game during basketball season, and is now warming up for baseball.

Music

"Than" emits some enticing bits of rhythm now'n then. "Larry" Brooks should take drumming seriously. By the way, he doesn't have a bad voice in the showers. Say, have you heard Jenks cut loose on the piano? He can really make the ivories talk. I think there's enough material here for a good swing band. There's "Red" Barlow and accordion, "Bill" Bull and "Bucky" on the flute and trumpet, "Mac" Brown's Jew's harp, and Haines and Bailey in brass; "Charlie St. Thomas, "Goldie", and "Win" Wight roll out the canned jive for hours on end to the delight of "Dick" McFee and "Bob" Bushong.

Literature

"My! Shin! My Shin!", by "Bob" Golderman has just appeared, inspired by "Herb" Bailey of romantic ballad fame. "Edgar Allen" Payeur, from some place down New York way, has written an enlightening novel, "The Flatbush Murder", also "The Face on the Wash Room Floor," and others. From the Klondike region, dangerous "Dan McGrew" walks again in Roger Williams.

Hobbies

In any odd moment "Bill" Clapp may be found in his shop, making a commotion, and turning out something new. The amplifier, which he made for "Bob" Golderman, has drowned out Mr. Bowhay's radio and caused much lament. Earl Barlow has finished a fine ship model and done some nice drawing.

"Norm" Kilby is ever on the spot with his "speed graphic" scooping events of social interest. "Whip" Abbe, across the hall, maintains a museum of signs and novelties from all over the world. Virgil Adams, "Shorty" Blanchard, "Howie", and "Yours Truly" also dabble in photography.

Miscellaneous

Gurdon Buck holds an honor part in the Senior Class; he's earned it if afternoons of study are an indication. I don't know where "Milt" Cameron keeps himself; he certainly doesn't bother anyone with noise. Business man "Herb" Foote, will manage financial affairs, care for the children, or arrange a South Sea Cruise. Two argumentative souls are "Dave" Holden, and booming "Reggie" King; don't get them started on the future of democracy. "Shadow" Littlehale haunts the pool room considerably, advising on solitaire, etc. Lee

West, tells some tall tales of the jungles of Magalloway. If you want a joke appreciated, tell it to Floyd Lohnes, or Vernon (Charlie Chaplin) Bennett.

Hail and Farewell

We are enjoying one of the finest dormitories in New England. It will be a let down to some of us in this respect to go to college. House meetings have been few and not unpleasant. Our genial housemaster, Mr. Loomis, has been more than fair with us.

Needless to say, the pool table has been worked overtime. The quickest way I know of to "unmake friends and infuriate people" is to walk into the recreation room and demand the next game.

We've had much fun this year and "wherever we may go or whatever we may do," it will never be forgotten.

With malice toward none, charity for all, and the best of intentions, I submit notes on the year 1939-40 at Holden Hall.

On May 22, 1939, the Girl Reserves met at the William Bingham Gymnasium for the installation of next year's officers. Afterwards pins and rings were awarded by Miss Margaret Stevens; pins were given to members of three years' standing, and rings to four year members.

This year, the picnic was held in the Home Economics cottage because of rain. Everyone had a good time, even though outside it was gray and dreary.

Several ideas for raising money were discussed at the first cabinet meeting of the year; the most promising were a dance and selling school stickers and seals. Plans were made for the "Welcoming" picnic.

The Girl Reserves went to Paradise Hill, on September 28, for a wiener roast. It was a hilarious crowd of girls that hiked to the picnic spot. Everyone had a good time, and before they went home, Betty McLaren led them in singing songs.

On October 4 we had the pleasure of having Mrs. George Thompson tell us about the trailer trip she had taken throughout the United States. She allowed everyone to examine several colored books that she bought while traveling. These books showed us what Mrs. Thompson could not describe in words. After hearing her talk every girl realized that she would like to take a trailer trip. Mrs. Thompson invited all the girls to come to see her trailer.

At the November first meeting, the table decorations for the conference to be held in Augusta the week end of November 3, were made by the girls. The decorations were tiny individual candles and candleholders; the holder was was a white gum drop with a white Life Saver mint for a miniature handle. A blue candle was put into the top of the gum drop and another mint dropped around the candle.

Informal reports were given on November 15 by those girls who attended the conference in Augusta. It proved to be an interesting meeting. The delegates were June Chipman, Kathryn Davis, Rachel Field, Marilyn Howe, Patricia Laverty, Betty McLaren, Lucia Packard, and Betty Runyon.

On December 13 we initiated new members. Those initiated were Pearl Barnett, Wilma Bean, Alice Bennett, Violet Brooks, Marion Chapman, Nora Chipman, Ida Clough, Barbara Coolidge, Arlene Donahue, Dora Gallant, Rachel Gordon, Pauline Hinkley, Beverly Kneeland, Vera Leighton, Barbara Poole, Carolyn Wight, and Marian Wight. Each girl was given a blue and white ribbon tie as a symbol of initiation. After completing the ceremony, a short Christmas program was given.

An especially interesting meeting was held in the form of a fashion show on February 8, 1940. The girls modeled their own clothes, which they had made in Home Economics. Miss Stevens explained the making and styling of each garment.

A barn dance was held in the Gymnasium on Friday, March 1. The gym was "dressed" for the occasion, in hay, old saddles, bridles, lanterns, a very frightening scarecrow, a cat, a dog, and some grain sacks.

Everyone came dressed for anything that might come along. The slogan for this one night was "the older the better"—so anything was expected and accepted. The most popular attire for boys was mismatched shoes, trousers with rips and tears, rope rather than belts or suspenders, and faded shirts. The girls were slightly more conservative. They wore slacks and shirts, or checked or print dresses. Of course, there were exceptions, such as year-before-last's torn slacks and rowdyish plaid shirts. Cowbells rang, haystacks beckoned, and square dances completed the night's fun.

Between dances a specialty was given—it was called "For Your Enjoyment"—and it certainly was! It was a Hill-Billy dance that produced howls of laughter.

The dance program brought fourth such dances as "Lady of the Lake," "Hay Maker's Jig," "Hay Chaff Stumble," "Milk Maid's Hop," and "Boston Fancy." You see, a real old-fashioned square dance! Everyone had, as would be expected, a hip-haying good time, and called for more.

On March 13 we tried a new and novel plan for money raising. A sandwich sale was held in the main room at recess. The sandwiches were made in the Home Economics Cottage by volunteers. They sold fast, were very good, and a good profit was made.

On April 10 we had another interesting discussion on the following topics: etiquette, flattering hair-do's, suitable choice of clothes, and harmonizing and non-harmonizing colors. Questions were asked, and Marilyn Howe and June Chipman acted as models displaying both suitable and unsuitable styles and colors.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Our Y. M. C. A. has enjoyed a very profitable and successful year under the leadership and guidance of our faculty adviser, Mr. Philip S. Sayles. The officers, who were elected at our first meeting, are: Donald Holt, president; Romeo Baker, vice-president; Irving Brown, secretary; Nathaniel Bartholomaei, treasurer.

One of the highlights looked forward to by the members of the "Y" is the annual Y. M. C. A. Older Boys' Conference. Those to attend this conference in Portland, as delegates from our school, were: Herbert Bailey, Romeo Baker, Nathaniel Bartholomaei, Bernard Bartlett, Winfield Benner, Parker Brown, Herbert Foote, Donald Holt, Norman Kilby, David Kirk, Edward Miller, George Stearns, Rodney Wentzell, and Sherman Williamson. They were accompanied by Mr. Loomis and Mr. Rathbone. The program provided by the committee was one of inspiration, from which every delegate carried away new thoughts and renewed ambition for better living. The hospitality of our hosts and hostesses could not have been surpassed.

This year's Winter Carnival, which was held February 16 and 17, was one of the most successful ever put on by the Y. M. C. A. Due to the perfect weather, a great number of spectators was able to attend the field events and so a good time was enjoyed by all. The carnival got off to a good start Friday afternoon with the Gould Varsity basketball team defeating the Hebron Reserves by a score of 40-29. Directly after the basketball game the cross-country race was held with the start and finish behind the girls' dormitory. In the evening the groups divided, part going out to the Paradise Rink for a skating party and the other group attending movies at Odeon Hall.

On Saturday morning the spectators gathered at Anderson's to watch the jumping, slalom, and downhill races. After dinner, the ski and snowshoe dashes and the obstacle races were held on the new athletic field. After the contests were over, everyone was invited into the Gehring Home for hot cocoa and crackers.

The Juniors were the high point winners in the Carnival, and will have their numerals inscribed on the Winter Sports Trophy. The Seniors came in for a close second, followed by the Sophomores third, and the Freshmen fourth. The Sophomores won the points awarded for the largest sale of tickets, high scorer being Nick Amato.

Students in the various events placed as follows:

Saturday evening the "Y" sponsored the ball which proved to be a grand climax of the week end. Music was furnished by Dick Poulin's orchestra from Lewiston, and the gym was originally and artistically decorated in the school colors, blue and gold. Refreshments were served at cabaret tables at intermission. All the members of the committees are to be congratulated on their fine cooperation to make this year's carnival the huge success which it was.

CAMERA CLUB

1940 marks the second year of the Camera Club's existence. That it has been both successful and useful can be judged by the extensive use of its equipment by the members.

The club was formed in order that students interested in photography and its branches might have a chance to further their hobby and possibly later vocation. Available to those belonging is a well-equipped dark room. This room is provided with an enlarger, a contact printer, developing facilities, both tank and tray, and chemicals. The dues are twenty-five cents annually and a small fee is charged for the use of the dark room.

The officers are: Mr. Carroll Bailey, faculty adviser; Romeo Baker, president; Winfield Benner, Secretary; Norman Kilby, treasurer. The following are members: Faculty, Mr. Bailey, Miss Lundy, Mr. Sayles; Students: Romeo Baker, Herbert Bailey, Winfield Benner, Hartwell Blanchard, Lawrence Brooks, Herbert Foote, Bradley Hall, Donald Howie, Floyd Lohnes, Richard McFee.

PUBLIC SPEAKING

In the Speech Department, Miss Mary Soule from Augusta, Maine is teacher. This year not only the football boys got exercise, but also the members of the Speech class, who were put through a vigorous routine by "Coach" Soule. Several individual speeches were given in class. Recently the classes have been giving panel discussions on various subjects.

The Chapel service on Wednesday morning, November 29, was presented under the direction of Miss Soule, and consisted of the following program:

Song: "Praise to God, Immortal Praise"

The Lord's Prayer

Scripture Reading: Psalm 107,

by Irving Brown

Song: "Come Ye Thankful People Come,"

by the Choir

The Origin of Thanksgiving,

by Winfield Benner

The First American Thanksgiving,

by Betty McLaren

Song: Thanksgiving Hymn, by the Choir

George Washington's Thanksgiving Proclamation of 1789,

by Erik Brown

Song: "America"

The Senior play, "Big Hearted Herbert" by Sophie Kerr and Anna Steese Richardson, was a big hit. It was presented, on March 20th, with the following cast of characters:

SENIOR PLAY, "BIG HEARTED HERBERT"

Herbert Kalness	Sherman Williamson
Elizabeth Kalness	Anne Ring
Herbert Kalness, Jr.	Nathaniel Bartholomaei
Alice Kalness	Mary Buck
Robert Kalness	Edward Wheeler
Martha	Esther Pike
Amy Lawrence	Elizabeth McLaren
Jim Lawrence	Minot Clapp
Mr. Goodrich	Bernard Bartlett
Mrs. Goodrich	Jean Cameron
Andrew Goodrich	Irving Brown
Mr. Havens	Henry Haley
Mrs. Havens	Kathryn Davis

This is the story of Herbert Kalness, a self-made man, who likes a simple old-fashioned life, and doesn't in the least understand why his children should want anything else. After ranting through two acts of the play, he is conquered and made to consent to the terms laid before him by his patient and long-suffering wife. The play was enjoyable and provided a good many laughs for the audience during the evening. It was produced under the skillful direction of Miss Mary Soule. All members of the cast acted well and showed evidence of much rehearsing and hard work. We feel that this play will long be remembered as one of the most successful of Gould plays.

The Gould Debating Club held three debates this year. The first debate was held on the question: Resolved that the city is preferable to the country. The affirmative speakers were Muriel Bean and Herbertina Norton, and the negative was upheld by Helen Williamson and Elizabeth Gorman. Sherman Williamson acted as chairman, and the judges were the members of the club. The decision was in favor of the affirmative arguments.

The question for the second debate was: Resolved that the world has more to fear than to hope for from the future development of machines. The affirmative speakers were Kathryn Davis and Sherman Williamson, and the negative speakers were Romeo Baker and David Holden. The club members again acted as judges, and the chairman was Howard Grover. This debate was won by the negative team.

The final debate was held on the question: Resolved that President Roosevelt should be re-elected for a third term. The affirmative was upheld by Nathaniel Bartholomaei and Anne Ring, and the negative by Lucia Packard and Howard Grover. Romeo Baker acted as chairman, and the club voted in favor of the negative debaters.

Members of this years' club were: Priscilla Abbott, Romeo Baker, Nathaniel Bartholomaei, Beverly Bassett, Muriel Bean, Amy Bennett, Mary Buck, Kathryn Davis, Rachel Gordon, Elizabeth Gorman, Robert Greenleaf, Howard Grover, David Holden, Fern Lane, Richard McFee, Herbertina Norton, Lucia Packard, Althea Parker, Warren Payeur, Anne Ring, Elizabeth Runyon, Roger Williams, Helen Williamson, and Sherman Williamson.

MUSIC NOTES

The Gouldonians, our school dance orchestra had another successful year under the direction of Mr. Combs. The following students were members of the orchestra this year. Romeo Baker, guitar; Herbert Bailey, saxophone; Nathaniel Bartholomaei, drums; Ida Clough, violin; Muriel Hall, violin; Althea Parker, piano; Richard Peabody, clarinet. The Gouldonians provided the music for the Homecoming Tea Dance.

The Chapel Choir has been under the direction of Mr. Philip S. Sayles, this year. The following members were selected at the beginning of the year by Miss Soule: Girls—Ruth Areson, Nancy Arnold, Mary Buck, Virginia Davis, Muriel James, Ruby Jewell, Althea Parker, Anne Ring, Betty Runyon, and Marian Wight; Boys—Nicholas Amato, Romeo Baker, Nathaniel Bartholomaei, Bernard Bartlett, Winfield Benner, Erik Brown, Jack Haines, and Edwin Jenks. Kathryn Davis was the accompanist. The Choir has led the student body in the singing in the chapel exercises each morning. They also took part in the Thanksgiving Program, the Christmas Vesper service, and have sung at both the Congregational and the Methodist Church.

The Girls' Glee Club, which has an enrollment of seventy members, is under the direction of Miss Mary Soule. The Glee Club provided music for the Christmas Vesper service; the first service of its kind to be held at Gould.

Twenty students are making great progress in the band under the direction of Mr. Anton Mainente. Practices are held each Friday morning. The school has purchased seven instruments this year for the use of Gould students. Work has already been started on the music for Commencement.

Gould Academy has been fortunate in being the first and only secondary school in Maine to receive a music set from the Carnegie Corporation of New York. This set includes a Capehart reproducer and turntable, over six hundred records representing all types of music from the most eminent composers, albums, cabinets, and a small library of pertinent musical literature. Mr. Mainente has given six talks on music appreciation. Two of the talks were on general music appreciation, two were on the development of music and were illustrated by records representing the different musical eras; the remaining four talks were on the opera "Aida." He explained the story of each act and then played the recordings of the opera. These talks were educational and interesting to all. The music set is also frequently used after school by various small groups interested in music appreciation.

HOME ECONOMICS

The basic schedule for all four Home Economics classes has been the same; each class having studied clothes for the first semester and foods for the second.

The twenty-seven girls in Home Economics I, the largest class, met on the second floor of the main building and held laboratory periods at the cottage. During the fall term the class sewed and studied color schemes, patterns, the selection and buying of clothes. The second semester schedule consisted of the study of breakfast dishes, and planning as well as caring for kitchens and dining rooms.

Girls taking Home Economics II not only stitched and sewed, but learned about clothing and design as well. The foods course has been a study of luncheon dishes. In preparation for giving their luncheons next year, a short unit on grooming and consumer economics was also included.

Home Economics III, a class of only nine, studied sewing, clothes, budgets, and grooming, until Christmas vacation. Then they took up cooking, luncheons, and breadmaking. Each girl planned and managed a luncheon. Her helpers were a cook, an assistant hostess, and two waitresses. Members of the faculty were invited. Many of the luncheons were given to honor a holiday such as Valentine's Day, St. Patrick's Day, etc.

In making a study of clothing, the Home Economics IV class spent the first semester in learning about sewing, machine attachments, etc. Their second semester course in foods was a study of dietetics, special diets, and cooking hobbies.

Many of the Home Economics girls were rewarded for doing their best in sewing by being allowed to take part in a Girl Reserve Fashion Show.

MANUAL TRAINING

Let us make a visit to the Manual Training Department where Mr. Anderson teaches the boys what to do and what not to do in the art of woodworking.

The first period of the day you will find the Sophomore class in the shop. The boys work on the lathes and other machines, cutting and finishing their projects. This year a new project became very popular with the boys. This was a gun rack. Racks were made by Rodney Chase, Asbery Emerson, Donald Kimball, Earl Littlefield, and Lewis Littlehale. Some of the other things made were: nut bowl sets by Whipple Abbe and Virgil Adams; a book and magazine stand by Levi Baker; footstools by Carlton Barker, Bradley Hall, Floyd West and Raymond Holt; a book case by Edward Bean; a bookcase and drawers by Milton Cameron; a secretary and bookshelf by Delwyn Long; a wall shelf by William Robertson; and a bridge lamp by Elmer Runyon.

The second period finds the Senior class at work on their varied and more difficult projects. Here we find a fine wheelbarrow made by Robert Billings; a two-tier table by Irving Brown; a nut bowl by Lee Hutchins; and a writing desk by Edward Miller; an ash tray stand by David Roberts; end tables by Bruce Scarborough and Edward Wheeler; a stand by Harold Young; a smoking stand by Lee West; and a cobbler's bench tea table by Rupert Grover.

The Junior class meets the first period in the afternoon. In this class the most popular articles were fruit bowls and writing desks. Philip Cummings and Robert Morrill made the bowls; while the desks were made by Lee Swan, Charles Knight, and Howard Grover. Clinton Estabrook made a smoking stand; a hall tree was made by James Shields; console tables by Gary York and Clayton Crockett; a nut bowl by Robert Lowe; and an end table by George Stearns. A twenty-room birdhouse was made by Earl Barlow, and a set of chessmen and board by Hartwell Blanchard.

The Freshmen class meets the last period of the day under the direction of Mr. Fossett. They made knife and fork boxes as a required project. After these were completed, small lamps and foot stools were made. Although no machines are used by this class the work done was of good quality.

Outside work was done by the boys in their spare time. Benches were made for the football field, and work was done for the senior play.

At the end of the year, the annual exhibit was held, where the entire collection of the year's work was put on display for the benefit of parents, pupils, and friends. This time unfinished work as well as the finished was displayed to show the project in different stages.

After the Easter vacation, all classes take up Mechanical Drawing, where they learn to draw simple plans in orthographic and isometric views. This also helps in reading the plans when making the objects in wood.

COMMERCIAL NOTES

The Office Practice group, which consists of five senior girls, has been very busy this year printing programs for various organizations and dances.

This work provides the group with much practical experience in cutting stencils, designing covers on the mimeoscope, and using the mimeograph machine. Some of the programs printed were for the Ladies Club, Ladies Aid, Junior Guild, Winter Carnival, Carnival Ball, Freshman Reception, and Senior Play. At one time, a representative from the A. B. Dick Company showed this group interesting facts about designing covers on the mimeoscope, and demonstrated the use of the latest implements and guides used in this sort of work.

This group has also been working extensively on the full bank adding machine and the ten-key machine. A miniature Monroe calculator was sent by the Monroe Company for a few days trial and is an exact copy of the real Calculator. This machine, which is different schools, is becoming very popular in modern business concerns today.

The classes of Typing I and Typing II were very fortunate in having new books this year. The purchase of nine new typewriters, including four Smiths three Royals, and two Remingtons, greatly facilitated the student's work. The second year class helped with the programs in various ways by typing, folding, and stapling. They also typed all the identification cards which were placed on the various pieces of carpentry in the Manual Training Exhibit. The pupils of these two classes have designed projects on the typewriter; many of which were well done, and will be a welcome addition to the displays on the bulletin board in bookkeeping room.

The Bookkeeping II class also was pleased in having the new books of the advanced course this year. This course offers seven different sets, all of different lengths. The largest was the Table-Manufacturing Set, involving corporation accounts, voucher register, check register, imprest system for petty cash, and the perpetual inventory system.

ATHLETICS

The football season of 1939, although not productive of as many victories as the past few years, was very successful in that student participation reached a new peak. Forty-nine men enrolled for the sport, and those students not actually playing formed one of the best cheering sections Gould has ever had on the gridiron.

Although forty-nine men reported for football, Gould could only produce two wins and a tie out of six games played. However, this was no disappointment as the squad was composed of only a few veteran men and many inexperienced players.

With only two weeks practice, Gould opened with Fryeburg Academy, and in a game filled with excitement and thrills, the team displayed strong offensive power but could not stop Fryeburg's passing. The game ended in a 14-14 tie.

After losing to a strong Bridgton J. V. team, Gould met their big rival, Norway, and brought home a victory, 6-0, in a bitterly fought game at Norway.

On October 31, Gould and South Paris staged a great football game that kept spectators on their toes most of the time. It was a well-played game; and although the "Blue and Gold" lost, the Paris eleven realized they were pressed to the limit.

The bright spot of the year was a smashing victory over a "highly-touted" Wilton Academy aggregation. With the odds against them on paper, the team went to work in their best form and convincingly demonstrated that in football "odds on paper" mean nothing, as the team scored an 18-0 victory.

In the final game of the season a victory-starved Berlin High team invaded Bethel and played a brand of ball that they hadn't played all year. The Gould boys went into the game overconfident and, playing their poorest ball of the season, went down to a 21-0 defeat.

Throughout the year the work of Captain Buddy Clough was outstanding as he led his fellow team mates into battle each week. His work in carrying and blocking was topped only by himself as a defensive player backing up the line. Another outstanding performance was the excellent defensive work of Earle Palmer at end. His peak performance in defensive play was displayed in the Gould-South Paris game. Carl Tucker was a bright spot on the offensive play; his speedy end runs bringing many a substantial gain for his team. These were not the only good jobs done by any means, but they were consistent throughout the year.

Those who have won the "G" are: Ends—Irving Cummings, Edward Miller, Earle Palmer, and Rodney Wentzell; Tackles—Whipple Abbe, Robert Angel, Gurdon Buck, Gardiner Smith, and Sherman Williamson; Guards—Bernard Bartlett, Reginald King, and David Roberts; Centers—Robert Billings and Robert Perry; Backs—Erick Brown, Buddy Clough, Everett Gavel, Guy Swan, Carl Tucker, and Edward Wheeler.

Those who will be back to form the nucleus for 1940 are: Line Men—Whipple Abbe, Irving Cummings, Sidney Howe (a letter man from 1938), Reginald King, and Robert Perry; Backfield—Captain-elect Buddy Clough, Erik Brown, and Guy Swan. A number of the under-classmen who played on the "B" team also show promise for next year, as well as a number of men who were subs this year but didn't earn their letter. Among the most promising are: Virgil Adams, Wilfred Coolidge, Philip Cummings, Asbery Emerson, Raymond Holt, Earl Littlefield, Warren Payeur, and Winfield Wight.

Gould Academy Wins Western Maine Conference Championship

Gould Academy completed its third successful season in a row by winning 11 out of 15 games and capturing the Western Maine Conference Championship. Of the four games lost, three were lost by the slim margin of one point.

Wentzell proved to be the backbone of the team and a real "money" player in that his high scoring was always maintained even in the toughest games. He ran up a total of 209 points for the season, averaging 14 points per game. Earle Palmer was a good offensive player, coming next to Wentzell with 184 points. Tucker proved himself to be one of the greatest defensive players in the league and was often sent to guard the opponents' star player. Swan and Hutchins played good steady ball throughout the year, and Clough showed himself to be a real fighter.

Gould started off with a bang, wallowing Oxford 67-19 in the first game. The game started rather slowly, but after the first few minutes Oxford didn't have a chance. Palmer and Wentzell were high scorers.

The second proved to be a real thriller, Gould taking Gorham, N. H., 38-35. The loss of Palmer in the third period made the Gould cause look almost hopeless, but the "Blue and Gold" fought a brilliant battle and finally came out on top. Both Wentzell and Swan were stars in this game.

Following this Gould came thru with a 53-31 win over Norway. During the first period it looked like a defensive game, but during the second quarter Gould passing attack got under way and turned the game into a walk-away for Gould.

In the next game Gould grabbed an early lead to beat Fryeburg, 53-31. Gould got the jump on Fryeburg, 13-2; in the first period, and slowly increased this lead during the rest of the game.

The "Blue and Gold" continued their winning ways by defeating Oxford again in the following game. Always before, Gould had had difficulty beating Oxford on their own floor, but this time she won easily, 53-24. Palmer and Wentzell were high scorers.

In the next encounter Gould lost a sensational game to South Paris, 31-30, the first defeat of the season. South Paris jumped to an early lead and managed to keep it during the first half. In the third quarter Gould finally got going and brought the score up about even. During the last period the battle raged fast and furiously, first one team was ahead and then the other. With Gould leading, 30-29, and a minute to go, Daniels of South Paris picked up a loose ball and tossed the basket that won the game, 31-30. Wentzell and Palmer led the scoring, but both Tucker and Hutchins played fine defensive games.

Gould Academy dropped its second game in less than a week when the Gorham, N. H. team gained revenge by swamping the local quintet, 47-27. It was clearly a night when the opponents were hot and the Gould quintet was exceptionally cold.

In a well played and keenly fought game, Gould restored its luck by defeating the Alumni, 48-36. The first period ended 14 to 8, and outscoring the old timers 12 to 8 in the second quarter left the winners with a 26-16 lead at the half. The last half was bitterly contested, but the game proved on ice as the Alumni could do no better than match the Gould points.

In a smartly played basketball game Gould walked off with a 29-19 victory over Fryeburg. The local team was really a quintet this time, as the five starting players played the whole game without relief. They played well as a team and everyman contributed to the scoring.

In a game packed with thrills from beginning to end, Gould gained sweet revenge for its 30-31 defeat at South Paris by gaining a 41-37 victory at the William Bingham Gymnasium. The game started fast and furiously, with the defense of each team showing up well. In the second period the scoring started with Gould gaining leads only to be overhauled; and in the last few minutes the visitors stole the show by going into the lead, 22-18, at the half. Shortly after the start of the third period Gould again took the lead and was never headed. The biggest crowd in years packed the Gymnasium to the very doors.

In the next game an elated Gould team had no trouble sinking Old Orchard to the tune of 56-20. The winners jumped into an early 10-0 lead and coasted along to an easy victory.

With the Hebron gymnasium packed with frenzied fans, Gould staged an up-hill battle to finally lose the tournament play-off game with South Paris by the slim margin of one point. It was the old story of nervousness and excitement playing havoc with the team in the early stages of the game, allowing South Paris to gain a 13-5 advantage in the first period. Going into the final period still eight points behind, the "Blue and Gold" staged another of those last minute rallies, and only the firing of the gun to end the game saved South Paris and delivered them their second one-point victory over Gould, 34-33. Wentzell was the outstanding player on the floor, and he and Swan lead the scoring for Gould. Hutchins and Tucker also played exceptionally good ball, especially in the last half. "Buddy" Clough's work in replacing Palmer also deserves special mention.

Gould quickly recovered by trouncing the Hebron Reserves, 40-29. The Gould seconds started off the game, but the Hebron team proved too strong, as they grabbed an early 8-2 lead. When the regulars went in things immediately began to pick up, and during the last half Gould ran away to win, 40-29.

BASKETBALL TEAM, 1939-1940

Front Row: L. Hutchins, G. Swan, E. Palmer, C. Tucker, R. Wentzell, F. Clough. Back Row: N. Amato, R. Lowe, R. Morrill, Coach O. H. Anderson, H. Blanchard, Manager R. Baker, I. Brown, W. Bull.

A gallant band of determined players turned in as neat a victory as any fan could wish for when the "Blue and Gold" defeated Norway, 30-16. The defensive play of the Academy team was superb in the first half, as Norway was held to three free throws and not a goal from the floor. Tucker, playing center, was the hero of the game, as he held Luck, Norway's star player, to three points after he had scored 26 points against South Paris. This game finally clinched the Western Maine Conference Championship for Gould, with seven victories and one defeat in the League schedule.

Gould Academy, playing excellent ball against the strong Hebron Reserve team on their own floor, lost another one-point game, 32-31. The Academy boys out-played their rivals, but the winners, with a number of tall men took numerous backboard rebounds for scores. Wentzell kept up his spectacular scoring by dropping in 17 points for scoring honors of the day. Tucker again displayed his powers as a defensive man by holding Nettleton, center of Hebron, who scored 15 points in the first Gould-Hebron game, to two baskets.

Gould scored a total of 626 points for the year as compared to 418 for the opponents. The following men earned their G's for the season: Irving Brown, Buddy Clough, Lee Hutchins, Earle Palmer, Guy Swan, Carl Tucker, Rodney Wentzell, Edward Wheeler, Harold Young, and Romeo Baker, manager. Of these men, only Swan, Hutchins and Clough will be back to represent the "Blue and Gold" next year. The services of Captain Wentzell, Earle Palmer and Carl Tucker are going to be sadly missed when the squad of "41" gathers for the new season.

The Gould Academy second team also had a very successful season this year, winning six out of seven games they played. The games were all close, hard-fought encounters, and one of them was an over-time duel, when Gorham was defeated 27-25. Bull and Blanchard were the outstanding scorers, with Amato, Wheeler, Brown and Lowe playing good ball throughout the season.

Juniors Win Interclass Championship

The Class of 1941, for the second consecutive year, annexed the Interclass Championship in basketball. This year the Champions were represented by Captain Wilbur Bull, Romeo Baker, Hartwell Blanchard, Erik Brown, Philip Cummings, Sidney Howe, Ted Jenks, Robert Lowe, Edward Miller, and Robert Morrill.

The games, very popular with the students, were well played and the majority were close, hard-fought games filled with excitement. A number of them were not decided until the final minutes of play.

The Sophomores, leading throughout the first of the tourney, finally ended in second place. The team consisted of Captain Billy Robertson, Whipple Abbe, Nick Amato, Levi Baker, Carlton Barker, Edward Bean, Lewis Littlehale, and Charles St. Thomas. The Senior squad, placing third, included Captain Rupert Grover, Robert Angel, Nathaniel Bartholomaei, Robert Billings, Gurdon Buck, Herbert Foote, Everett Gavel, and Bruce Scarborough. The Freshmen, although unable to win a single victory, put up a number of gallant battles and were well represented by Captain Raymond Holt, Albert Buck, Wilfred Coolidge, Francis Holt, Richard Jordan, Hugh Scarborough, Homer Smith, Roscoe Swain, Roger Williams, and Winfield Wight.

WINTER SPORTS

The Gould Winter Sports team enjoyed another successful season; competing against Bridgton Academy, Hebron Academy, Norway High School, and in the Waterford Carnival as well as their own Carnival. The team was successful in their meets against Bridgton and Norway, but dropped two close decisions to Hebron.

Among the high lights of the season was the trip to Pleasant Mountain, where the meet with Bridgton was conducted. The Bridgton boys acted as dinner hosts at the Academy. Also, the Gould team put on its best showing of the year in this meet, shutting out Bridgton by taking the first four places in each of the three events.

At Hebron the boys found everything well arranged except the route to the ski hill, which proved rather puzzling.

After trying all the different routes leading out of Hebron, the right one was finally found and the hill located. The down hill event was started immediately and the course through the woods proved rather tricky. We were lucky to hold our own in the team score. The next event, the slalom, a Gould specialty, brought an overwhelming victory for us. However, the jumping offset this as Hebron's two aces, Miller and Olson, piled up valuable points. The cross-country race was the final event. Cummings got off the course entirely and finished first, after having started last without passing a single man. The boys remained at Hebron for dinner at Sturtevant home and returned early in the evening.

The meet with Norway, a post-season affair, was held at Chapman's Field, this being the first meet ever attempted there. Courses were laid out which really tested the skiers' ability and a very interesting and exciting meet resulted. Gould finally copped this meet, much to the disappointment of Norway's two star skiers, Russell and Twitchell.

BASEBALL, 1939

The baseball of this season proved rather disappointing from the very beginning. The late spring made it impossible to get outdoors until the first of May; and then ten games confronted the squad in twenty-seven days, without a single veteran in the battery department. However, the boys showed the results of their indoor training and surprised everyone by winning the first four starts. The first game, particularly, was a nip and tuck affair at Norway; which went ten innings before Norway blew up, allowing Wentzell and Crockett to reach on errors, and Tucker come through with one of his "patented" hits to bring in one run. Norway's first man up in the tenth hit a single, but stayed on first as the next three men were retired in order.

Gould traveled to Fryeburg with high hopes of annexing them as their fifth victim; but Crockett faltered in the fifth inning, allowing Fryeburg to score seven runs and salt the game away, 8-3. Gorham had one of their strongest teams in years and had no difficulty in winning the two games. Then came the return engagement with Fryeburg here, and what a game! Brooks pitched his best game of the entire year, allowing but one run in the first inning; but this proved sufficient as Howard all but reached the "hall of fame" as the only hit registered off his delivery was a bunt engineered by Parker Brown in the fourth inning. This cinched the Western Maine Conference for Fryeburg for the second successive year.

The infield showed to a good advantage on the whole, although every once in a while did suffer a case of the jitters and fail to support their pitcher in the pinch. The team batted well and built up an average of .290 for the season. The highest averages were attained by Holt .455, Tucker .396, Wentzell .356, and Smith .300.

BASEBALL, 1940

The "hopefuls" for this season are already working out in the gymnasium and once again it looks as though it would be at least May 1 before the field is in condition for play. The first game is scheduled with Norway, April 27; and thus it seems as though the team will be forced to enter this contest without the benefit of a real work-out.

The men showing promise are: Adams and Billings, catchers; Barker, Crockett, Jenks, Roberts, and Tucker, pitchers; Clough, Coolidge, Gavel, Howe, Robertson, Swan, and Wentzell, infielders; Amato, Angel, Cummings, Holt, and Miller, outfielders.

GOULD ADOPTS TENNIS

For the first time in the history of the school, Gould Academy will be represented by a tennis team. At the time of writing, tennis practice is just starting and there may be a number of boys who will surprise us with their ability.

Thirteen boys have signed up as potential representatives. Most of the boys are underclassmen, so prospects for the future may shine brighter. "Than" Bartholomaei and David Roberts are the only Seniors on the squad; while the Junior class contributes Romeo Baker, Hartwell Blanchard, Erik Brown, Wilbur Bull, Philip Cummings, Sidney Howe, and Ted Jenks. The remaining boys, Jack Haines, David Holden, Richard McFee, and Charles St. Thomas, are Sophomores.

TRACK

The Gould Academy track team completed a moderately successful season for 1939, in spite of the fact that a very late spring hampered practice considerably. The boys won easily over South Paris, lost to Norway, and then came fourth in the county meet.

On May 11, Gould won the first track meet ever run on the new athletic field, beating South Paris, 69-30. The scorers for Gould were: Holt: first in javelin, shot put, and discus, third in 220 yard dash; Parker Brown: first in 100 yard dash and low hurdles, second in high jump, and tied for third in pole vault; Gurdon Buck: first in 220 yard dash,

The meet with Norway, on May 18, was planned for the Gould field, but there was such a strong wind sweeping over the track that it had to be carried out at Norway instead. The meet was fairly close most of the time, but Norway came through to win, 68-40. The Gould scorers were: Donald Holt: second in javelin and shot put, third in discus; Earle Palmer: tied for first in mile, second in high jump; Parker Brown: second in low hurdles, third in 100 yard dash, pole vault, and broad jump; Gardner Smith: first in javelin; Bernard Bartlett: first in 440 yard dash; Irving Cummings: tied for first in mile; Donald Kimball: second in half-mile; Murray Thurston: third in shot put; Howard Grover: third in mile; Rodney Wentzell: third in half mile.

In the Oxford County track meet Rumford and Norway were quite close, taking first and second places respectively. At first it was thought that Gould came third, but a mistake was found which placed South Paris third and Gould fourth. The point gatherers for Gould were: Donald Holt: first in javelin, fourth in shot put; Parker Brown: third in low hurdles, fourth in 100 yard dash; Gardner Smith: second in javelin; Gurdon Buck: third in 220 yard dash; Carl Tucker: fourth in broad jump; Laurice Morrill: one of seven to tie for second place in pole vault.

The following eleven men earned their letters for the season of 1939: Bernard Bartlett, Parker Brown, Gurdon Buck, Philip Cummings, Donald Holt, Laurice Morrill, Earle Palmer, Murray Thurston, and John Larsen, manager.

Thirty-six candidates are out for the 1940 squad. Seven of these are former letter men: Sidney Howe, outstanding javelin thrower and shot putter; Rupert Grover, capable miler and pole vaulter; Philip Cummings, miler; Earle Palmer, miler and high jumper; Bernard Bartlett, quarter miler; Gurdon Buck, dash man and high jumper; and Carl Tucker, dash man and jumper. In addition to these letter men we have Donald Kimball and Rodney Wentzell in the half-mile, Erik Brown and Bud Runyon in the low hurdles, Charles St. Thomas in the quarter-mile and high jump, and Howard Grover in the mile, who have all had some experience. The new men out for the squad this year are: Whipple Abbe, Earl Barlow, Irving Brown, Malcom Brown, Albert

Buck, Sandy Campbell, Dominic De Vito, Robert Golderman, Donald Howie, Richard Jordan, Norman Kilby, Reginald King, Lewis Littlehale, Edward Miller, Guy Parker, Warren Payeur, Guy Swan, Francis Vail, Edward Wheeler, and Roger Williams.

The 1940 track schedule is as follows:

May 9—Triangular meet with Gould, Norway, and South Paris, at Norway.
May 16—Triangular meet with Gould, Norway, and South Paris, at Gould.
May 25—Oxford County Track meet at Gould.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

The Girls' Athletic Council has been very active this year. The council is a group of girls, from all the classes, who meet every two weeks to discuss and settle the problems that arise in the different sports. The following girls are members of the 1939-40 council.

President—Madelyn Bird
Vice-President—Barbara Luxton
Secretary and Treasurer—Herbertina Norton
Senior Representative—Virginia Davis
Junior Representative—Mary Jodrey
Sophomore Representative—Emma Blake
Freshman Representative—Carolyn Wight
Manager of Hiking—Ruth Bull
Manager of Horseshoes—June Enman
Manager of Tennis—Lucia Packard
Manager of Winter Sports—Rachel Field
Manager of Basketball—Kathryn McMillin
Manager of Volleyball—Kathryn Davis
Manager of Baseball—Joyce Swan
Faculty Adviser—Dorothy Hanscom

To be awarded an athletic medal at graduation, a girl must have earned at least 80 points in sports, she must have an average rank of at least 75%, and she must be considered by the teachers and by members of the Athletic Council as having observed the rules of good sportsmanship. Girls who received medals in 1939 were: Margaret Bennett, Sylvia Bird, Virginia Chapman, Mary Clough, Elizabeth Field, Evelyn Kimball, Helen Lowe, Barbara Lyon, Mary Robertson, Virginia Smith, and Claire Tebbets.

On May 27, ten girls went to Rumford to an inter-school Play Day. Schools from all of Oxford County were represented and the following students represented Gould: Margaret Bennett, Kathryn Davis, Aglena Garroway, Marilyn Howe, Julia Kasregis, Lillian Leighton, Anne Logofet, Barbara Luxton, Barbara Lyon, Herbertina Norton. We were divided into teams; then we went out on the athletic field and had relays and group games. We had lunch in the school cafeteria, and after dinner there were more games and the finals were held. Late in the afternoon, scores were added up, and the members of the winning team were each given a medal.

HIKING AND HORSESHOES

Girls' athletics were started in the fall with hiking and horseshoes. The usual rules were effective in hiking: one supervised hike and one forty-five minute hike a week, a five and eight mile hike during the season. Bicycling could be substituted for hiking. Sixty-three girls completed these requirements and received their points.

Twenty-six girls signed up for horseshoes and received points towards their awards. After a few weeks of practice, class teams were chosen. The Senior team was the winner of the tournament and the following girls were on the team: Madelyn Bird, Ethelyn McMillin, Kathryn McMillin, and Edna Young.

TENNIS

In spite of the many rainy and cold days last fall, thirteen girls finished the required hours of tennis practice. Ruth Bull and Lucia Packard were the high scorers, with Lucia winning the final game of the tournament.

CLASS BASKETBALL

The same rules were applied to class teams this year. Except in the Junior-Senior games, no varsity player could be put in the game unless absolutely necessary, and then they had to play out of position. In the Junior-Senior game, three varsity players could play on the team at the same time, and no handicap was allowed for any game. The following girls were on the class teams:

Seniors: (Captain) Madelyn Bird, Mary Buck, Jean Cameron, Kathryn Davis, Virginia Davis, Marilyn Howe, Ethelyn McMillin, Kathryn McMillin, Esther Pike, and Edna Young.

Juniors: (Captain) Pauline Bean, Hope Bailey, June Chipman, Mary Jodrey, Fern Lane, Lillian Leighton, Lucia Packard, Joyce Swan, Francine Warren, and Marian Wight.

Sophomores: (Captain) Marian Colby, Hope Bean, Emma Blake, June Enman, Rachel Field, Dorothy Fish, Elizabeth Gorman, Madelene Jordan, Patricia Laverty, and Herbertina Norton.

Freshmen: (Captain) Ida Clough, Louisa Bacon, Marian Chapman, Barbara Coolidge, Dora Gallant, Vera Leighton, Josephine McMillin, Katherine Morgan, and Carolyn Wight.

The Freshmen won the inter-class tournament, winning four games, tying one, and losing one.

High scorer for the Seniors was Virginia Davis, with 16 points; Junior, Joyce Swan with 16 points; Sophomores, June Enman with 41 points; and Freshmen, Marion Chapman with 53 points.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Basketball practices started in the middle of November, and the girls on the "A" squad reported to three practices a week; and continued to do so until the last practice in February. Signals and foul line shooting were given special attention, as well as trying out a new zone defense system.

Because of the limited number of games this year, it was decided that one full game would be necessary for a girl to be considered a varsity player, and the following girls will receive silver basketballs for having played at least one game: Hope Bailey, Madelyn Bird, Kathryn Davis, Lillian Leighton, Lucia Packard, Marian Wight, and Edna Young. Virginia Davis, Ethelyn McMillin, and Captain Kathryn McMillin will have "1940" engraved on the basketballs they earned last year.

The team was undefeated this year, and the following is a summary of the games played:

Gould	Opponent
52	Oxford	27
33	Oxford	30
22	South Paris	13
26	Alumnae	19
20	South Paris	18

Ethelyn McMillin was high scorer, winning 72 points for the team.

WINTER SPORTS

There was an unusual amount of enthusiasm toward winter sports this year. Many of the girls who signed up took skiing lessons from Mr. Myers, and counted those as supervised requirements. But in addition to skiing, girls could get their hours in by hiking, snowshoeing, skating, or sliding. Two hours a week of some outdoor sport and three supervised hours during the season were required. Twenty-seven girls completed these requirements.

VOLLEYBALL AND BASEBALL

Because of the large number of girls out for volleyball, it was necessary to pick a first and second team for each class. The first teams will play each other in two fifteen-minute periods, and the second teams will play each other in two ten minute periods. The games will start soon and the tournament will be played off. The following are captains of the class teams: Seniors, Marilyn Howe; Juniors, Mary Jodrey; Sophomores, Hope Bean; Freshmen, Alice Bennett.

Baseball practice will start soon and class teams will be picked. It is hoped that we will be able to use our own girls' athletic field this spring, for the completion of which we have waited a long time.
